WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Thirty former German passenger ships seized when the United States entered the war, including the Leviathan, the largest vessel afloat; the George Washington, which carried President Wilson back and forth from Europe; the Agamemnon and others which were the bride of the German merchant marine, were offered for sale to-day by the Shipping Board.

Proposals for the purchase of the vessels, which may be filed up to January 20, will be received only from American buyers and must include pledge to use the shins on lines designated by the Shipping Board.

Decision of the board to offer th former German liners for sale was determined principally by the cost of reconditioning them for passenger service, Chairman Payne said in announcing that the vessels were for sale. Many of the vessels were used by the War Department as transports, both before and after the armistice and the cost of refitting them for passenger service has been estimated by Shipping Board officials at approximately $50,000,000.

By restricting the sale of the ships lishment of its proposed passenger service program to all parts of the world along the same lines that would have been followed had the board itself put the liners into service.

The vessels of the first class type offered for sale are: Leviathan, Agamemnon, Mt. Vernon, Von Steuper, George Washington, Martha Washington (Austrian), America, De Kalb, Aeolus, Huron, Princess Matoika, Pocahontas, Callao, Moccasin, Black Arrow and Otsego. Fourteen others of the intermediate type adapted for steerage and cargo, including the President Grant, Antigone, Mercury and Amphion, are also offered to buyers.

According to the story the police say the prisoners told, all four were in an automobile which upset at that point and De Vall was killed. Britain Plans Trade Food Costs Underwent Big Decline in 1919

Fifteen Grocery Items and All on Meat List Registered a Drop, Report Shows

TORIL TRIBUNE, CLIUDAE, SERVERY 1, 1620

Federal Food Administrator Arthur Williams made public yesterday price lists comparing the cost of staple foodstuffs on December 31, 1918, and December 31, 1919. The figures virtually are the same as those published in The Tribune on Wednesday and show that fifteen grocery items declined in price, and three advanced and one was unchanged. All eighteen articles on the meat list registered a decline.

The total cost of the nineteen grocery items on Mr. Williams' list was $4.49 on December 31, 1918, and $4.21 on December 31, 1918, and $4.21 on December 31, 1918 and $6.15 on the last day of 1918 and $6.15 on the last day of 1918.

Deputy Markets Commissioner Mrs. Louise Reed Welzmiller announced yesterday that she would attempt to carry on a campaign to educate school children to purchase food properly. She plans to cooperate with the Department of Education, she said. Children do most of the purchasing in poorer families because the mother is too busily occupied with household duties to venture out, she explained. She also will try to get sugar into circulation in retail channels, she said.
